

This assignment is to help you further build upon the narrative through thoughtful self-exploration.

Go through old photographs, childhood keepsakes. Look at old schoolwork or drawings you may still have. In a few words using verbs and adjectives, write down words that describe how you perceived yourself as a young child, a young adolescent and then as you see yourself now.

Start to document series of events that changed who you were, developing a self-narrative of who you feel you have grown into. Utilize props, old diaries, letters, photographs, toys, or a favorite momentum/object you may have held onto to demonstrate the various stages of your life.

Carefully pre-meter, pre-focus and use a tripod to illustrate various stages of your life through self-portraiture. Vary location and keep it relative to your remembered childhood memories.

What's due:

- 100 images in contact sheet (800 dpi), (5-6) exported edits.
- Upon our return 1/11/21 (extended time: 1/15/21) (5-6) 8x10 prints

Zoom meeting: Wed. 12/16: 9:35am-10: 44am

<https://zoom.us/j/7113116874?>

Passcode: 123456

